

Sandy Springs Lodge #124

100 Johnson Ferry Road NE

Sandy Springs, GA 30328

C. Danny Wofford, PGM Speaks at SS Lodge

Past Grand Master C. Danny Wofford spoke to Sandy Springs Lodge #124 on the evening of August 11. His talk involved a discussion of the working tools of a Master Mason, especially as they relate to the description of these tools as presented in the three degrees. For the EA degree, these are the 24-inch gauge and the common gavel; for the FC degree they are the plumb, the square, and the level; for the Master's degree they are all the implements of Masonry, but more especially the trowel.

Civil Air Patrol Officers Give Program

Two officers of the Civil Air Patrol, Major Mike Reed and Lt. Colonel Jeff O'Hara, spoke to our Lodge on August 25. They also presented two short videos on the work of the CAP beginning with WWII. During the war, the CAP provided help in patrolling the coastal regions of the United States, looking for ships and submarines that were a part of the Axis powers. The CAP Cadets have an active group that meets in Sandy Springs. At present they are meeting at St. Jude's Catholic Church, but they may soon have to relocate, due to crowded condition.

At present they are meeting at St. Jude's Catholic Church, but they may soon have to relocate, due to crowded condition.

50-year Mason

On Sunday, August 13, WB Tommy Meeks and WB John Keown paid a visit to the home of Lawrence Mayer Steinheimer, Jr. to present him with his 50-year apron and pin. Due to poor health, he was unable to come to the Lodge for the presentation. Brother Steinheimer is actually a 60-year Mason, and he has an apron for this length of service. He is a member of Clinton Lodge #54 in Savannah, GA. In the photo above, he is shown with his wife and daughter Carole.

Christian Montenegro MELD Awards

Brother Chris Montenegro recently completed several of the MELD courses including Georgia Masonic Manual, Georgia Masonic History Course, and Georgia Masonic Rules of Order. The photo shows Chris along with WB Bill Kayma, who made the presentation.

Chris also participated in the Scottish Rite Tournament of Champions at the Atlanta Masonic Center. His area of completion was the Apron Lecture. Although he did not win, he did a fine job. Congratulations, Chris.